

JIMMY
PAULDING
FOR SUPERVISOR

Dear {{FirstName or "Friend"}},

Kendra Paulding here, with a few words about Jimmy's campaign to defeat Lynn Compton in the June 7 election.

A friend just sent me a column by an experienced political consultant writing about how difficult it is for candidates to get out their messages in today's fractured media environment.

Tell me about it!

That's why Jimmy is relentless about showing up on voters' doorsteps. Walking works. Talking works. Listening works.

After our last campaign, four years ago, supporters told us over and over again: "I voted for Jimmy because he came to my door, and he listened."

Since Jan. 1, Jimmy and I have knocked on hundreds of doors. We walk and knock and listen three days a week. Starting in April, we will amp up our canvassing strategy and knock on doors five days a week until Election Day, June 7.

We love carrying our message door to door. But walking and talking isn't enough to get the job done.

We also need to advertise on TV and radio, and we need to mail postcards and brochures.

Campaigning is expensive, in time and money, and that's why I'm asking for your help.

Please, if you haven't already, sign up to volunteer or make a contribution here. Please share this note with three friends; ask them to join our effort to unseat Lynn Compton and restore decency, common sense and good governance to the Board of Supervisors.

Remember, this election will be decided June 7. That's right around the corner. Let's be sure we've done everything we can to win.

Thank you!
